

New appointment at MMI

We are pleased to announce that with effect from January 1 2009, Chloe Richardson has joined the MMI Sales team in the newly created position of MMI Sales Support Manager and will be reporting directly to Mr Andrew Suett, Muntons Malted Ingredients Sales and Marketing Director.

Muntons Malted Ingredients has seen sustained growth over the last few years and the position of Sales Support Manager has been created to ensure that we can continue to offer an excellence of service to our customers, our agents and our distributors.

As Chloe explained: “I am confident that this new office based position and the additional resources that this brings will assist us in meeting the demands of our growing business and ensure that we will be able to offer the professional service that our customers have grown to expect.”

Since joining Muntons in 2002, following her graduation, Chloe has spent time in a variety of areas within the company, most recently working with the planning and forecasting team but prior to this spending three years in sales administration.

She has recently completed a year under the Muntons Graduate Training Programme. Chloe is therefore well equipped to deal promptly and efficiently with customer needs, requirements and queries.
